NEWS RELEASE

Salt Lake City, UT– January 13, 2021—Taproot Health™, a data-as-a-service company that aims to revolutionize cancer research to find the cure, announced the appointment of Lori Miles to the position of Director of Clinical Operations.

Lori is an experienced program manager with over 11 years of experience in clinical trial work. In her career, she has worked as a clinical research coordinator, data manager, monitor, and program manager. Her progression within clinical research has given her the knowledge and skills to oversee complex trials and research teams, knowledge that will be invaluable to Taproot as we collect patient-consented, real-world data at the point of care for patients across the nation.

Lori received a Master of Science and Technology from The University of Utah. She has worked for several major institutions, including The University of Utah, The Huntsman Cancer Institute, and UC Berkley.

About Taproot Health™
